Welcome to the 2024 TDRU Season

This is your personal invitation to join some of Townsville's leading businesses as a partner of the Townsville and District Rugby Union.

The Brolgas 1st 50 will again be offered the opportunity to win major prizes and sponsorship activations for a $1,000 (+ GST) investment.

Whilst we have endeavoured to keep the cost affordable for all business sizes, please do not hesitate to purchase more if it suits your business. The more partnership tickets you purchase, the more opportunities you have to win, and you are not restricted to winning just the one (1) prize.

The organisation's structure and proven successful sporting business model is attributed to its hard-working clubs, committee members, volunteers, staff and loyal sponsors. This structure and model has been replicated by many sports and businesses across Queensland in many different fields.

The TDRU has more staff than any other community sport organisation in Townsville with its development team visiting over 20,000 school students each year, between Ingham, Charters Towers, the Burdekin and Townsville, contributing to a growing Junior competition.

The TDRU understands the current financial climate places significant pressure on the sponsorship dollar but sees the importance of value for money and the forming of a business partnership that offers your business a great opportunity and the TDRU financial support.

I invite you to consider the 1st 50 Partnerships to ensure your business benefits from a relationship with Rugby Union.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss the partnership opportunities in greater detail, please contact the TDRU office to arrange a meeting with one of our committee members.

Our Heritage

The first recorded football matches in Townsville were in 1868 when an attempt was made to form a club. Only 12 or 13 members joined, but they gathered occasionally on the flats at Ross Island "for the purpose of enjoying this manly amusement". A second club formed in 1883 and these clubs played two games. By 1886, the Townsville Football Association was formed, and inter-city games were played against Charters Towers. It is difficult to determine whether these games were actually Rugby Union or Victorian Rules (now Australian Rules) for the records only indicate that football was played.

The 1911 season saw inter-city games between Mackay, Cairns and Charters Towers and the standard of Townsville Rugby Union had improved so much by 1913 that two Townsville players, Fraser and Hanley were selected in the Queensland team.

Rugby Union disappeared from the sporting scene for many years, and finally reappeared in 1967 when a small band of enthusiasts came together to reform rugby in Townsville. There were four clubs, City, Army, University and All Schools. The following year All Schools changed its name to Brothers.

Also in that year, plans were developed, and applications were made for the establishment of a permanent Rugby Union Headquarters. One application was to the Lands Department for an area in Rowes Bay, the other to Townsville City Council for land on Hugh Street. The Hugh Street site finally won out and is the current site of Townsville & District Rugby Union.

Fund raising commenced in the early 1970's and by 1972 total funds stood at $16,000. In a great display of bold confidence, the committee of Townsville & District Rugby Union proceeded to expend in excess of $400,000 on the Hugh Street complex. The grounds were officially opened by the then President of the Australian Rugby Football Union, Mr. Bill McLaughlin, on March 11, 1979. Seventeen inches of rain fell that day turning the field into a lake and making the much-advertised inaugural match unplayable.

Since that day many improvements have taken place and many teams have come and gone. Over the past twenty years there have been twenty-three clubs in existence at different times.

Today the Townsville & District Rugby Union consists of following clubs:

Clubs Participating in the Senior Grades

Brothers, Teachers West, North Ward Old Boys, Ross River Redskins, Western Suburbs, Burdekin, Charters Towers, Ingham.
